

Biographical Overview

Janette D. Piankoff, Ph.D.

Dr. Janette Piankoff, Director of Human Resources and Organizational Development at Sempra Energy, has over twenty-five years of Human Resources and Organizational Development experience.

In her varied career she has worked for large public companies, internet start-ups, small family-owned businesses and her own leadership consulting organization. While well-versed in the HR Generalist function, her expertise and passion lies in Leadership Assessment and Development.

Dr. Piankoff has worked for Sempra Energy for twelve years in several of the operating companies. In her current role, she is responsible for Human Resources & Organization Development for the parent company along with a liaison role with the International companies.

Dr. Piankoff holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in I/O Psychology from San Francisco State University and Masters of Arts and Ph.D. degrees in I/O Psychology from California School of Professional Psychology in San Diego.

She serves on the Employer Advisory Board of the UCSD Rady School of Management.

A native Californian, Janette lives in San Diego with her two dogs.